LMI COLLEGE of Insurance and Risk

An Overview

LMI COLLEGE of Insurance and Risk is a Registered Training Organisation recognised under the Standards for RTO's 2015 by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA), Provider Number 31916.

The LMI College has been involved in training in the insurance broking and claims sector since 2005. Trainers have significant practical industry experience and provide learners with ongoing support and feedback. Our philosophy is to provide a quality, personalised service to the learners referred to us. We recognise that not all businesses are the same and each individual learner's expertise and experience can vary significantly. We endeavour to provide training and/or assessment that suits the specific needs of our learners.

Introduction

The information contained herein has been developed to provide you with information about us and the courses we offer. This handbook also contains information outlining your rights and responsibilities and our rights and responsibilities.

Training and Delivery

The LMI College team pride themselves on the personalised service provided to clients and learners. The process adopted is to provide learners with continual feedback and support in the learning process. We recognise that each learner's abilities will differ, and we will provide additional support where needed. We understand not everyone learns in the same manner. Our courses are adapted to fulfil these variations in learning. It is important to note that undertaking courses provided by LMI College may be difficult for any potential learner who does not have access to broking software or insurance products information.

We do expect learners to take responsibility for their learning, which includes meeting the timelines we establish for completion of assessments. Timelines for completion are allocated on the learners' dashboard, or if additional training and assessment is required, allocation of timeframes is made by the trainer. Flexibility is applied where there are extenuating circumstances and/or at the request of an authorised supervisor. From time to time we may require learners to complete a course earlier than indicated. This only occurs when there has been a change to the training package (qualification) and the learner is in danger of exceeding the teach-out period provided by the regulators.

When learners submit their assessments, our trainers will review the assessment and contact the learner to provide them with feedback. If the learner requires additional training this will be completed via telephone at that time. If learners require additional support completing the assessments, they can contact their trainer during office hours to gain assistance.

Our Courses

Our courses have been developed with practicality in mind. Our trainers and resource developers have all worked extensively in the general insurance and insurance broking profession. The courses are designed with practical day to day broking practices in mind. We recognise that whether a person is 6 or 60, they all learn differently. Our objective is to accommodate the varying ways people learn.

Our training modules contain a variety of text-based learning modules, interactive infographics and animations to maintain the learner's interests.

It is our view that technical insurance knowledge is formative to the development of insurance broking skills. Our training courses incorporate technical knowledge, generic product knowledge and broking skills.

Mission Statement

Our objective is to strive to offer the best training and education programs possible. It is our intention to develop an organisation of quality and integrity that offers our clients nationally endorsed qualifications in a flexible learning environment. INFORMATION AND COURSE DELIVERY

Qualification and Delivery Options

Learners who have undertaken prior training or gained knowledge and skills through life and work experiences may be eligible to have their competencies recognised. Learners are supported throughout the process by LMI College staff. These may include:

Recognition of Prior Learning - Credit Transfer

LMI College is committed to recognising units of competency and qualifications issued by other Registered Training Organisations. Learners who have undertaken prior studies and have been issued with a Statement of Attainment or Qualification Certificate may be eligible to have completed units of competency recognised as a credit towards enrolled courses. Learners should contact LMI College to discuss this option.

Please note, when a statement of attainment or qualification certificate is provided by the learner, LMI College may contact the issuing RTO to validate the statement of attainment or qualification certificate.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Learners who consider they are already competent in one or more of the units of competency in the qualification have the right to have that competency recognised without participating in a learning process. This pathway requires the learner to demonstrate current competence or provide evidence of prior learning.

Learners wishing to apply for RPL in a portfolio mode are provided with an RPL kit which incorporates the document 'Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) Handbook' and an application for recognition of prior learning and portfolio of evidence checklist.

Portfolio

Learners may compile evidence in the form of copies of certificates, work examples, letters etc. This technique is particularly useful for those participants with existing skills who are located in regional areas where they may have limited opportunity for face-to-face contact with trainers and assessors. Evidence is verified by a thorough verbal questioning process via face-to-face or telephone interview.

Alternatively, learners may arrange for observation and recognition of workplace performance through employer testimonials or work appraisals or through assessor observation. This technique allows learners to collect direct evidence where no other documentation is available or to provide further evidence to support other hard copy documentation. This is frequently preferred by those who have limited previous exposure to education and training or who prefer to demonstrate rather than document skills and knowledge.

Learners may undertake a gap assessment test which establishes their underpinning knowledge, skills requirements and specialist product knowledge, relevant legislation and regulations.

RPL Diploma of Insurance Broking Assessment Workshops

From time to time, LMI College may conduct RPL Assessment Workshops. These workshops are designed to cater for candidates with over 5 years' experience managing a commercial book of business in a broking environment. Candidates undertaking these workshops must be able to provide a validated Statement of Attainment to demonstrate they have attained at least four (4) units of competency in a Tier 1 Insurance Broking course.

Further information is available by contacting our office.

Work-based Training and Assessment

Following the offer of, or participation in the RPL option, learners who require further training and assessment will undertake the Work-based Training and Assessment pathway. This pathway involves learners completing work related training and assessment activities through one of the modes outlined in the following section. All work-based training and assessment combines work-based activities and computer-based training with activities to reinforce learning.

Work-based Training and Assessment takes place via the following process:

- ❑ Step1 – eLearning activities and/or practical assessments are provided to the learner
- ❑ Step 2 – Verbal verification questions are completed by the assessor, either face to face or via telephone, alternatively observation checklists are completed on site, via an authorised supervisor, or in a workshop environment
- ❑ Step 3 - Feedback is provided to the learner regarding outcomes and if necessary, details of further assessment or training provided.
- ❑ Step 4 - The results of the assessment are recorded and a Statement of Attainment or Qualification issued by LMI College.

Learning Delivery Mode

The qualification courses are delivered via eLearning mode.

eLearning

This delivery mode involves the use of our eLearning interactive training modules or videos to provide the relevant training and assessment tasks. Many of these modules can be downloaded and printed. Trainer support will be available by telephone or email throughout the duration of the qualification and completed activities and assessment tasks will be submitted to the trainer via post, email or eLearning platform.

- ❑ Alternative training and assessment activities may be provided as necessary until the learner has gained the skills, knowledge and experience essential for competence. Learners will be given feedback whilst working through the relevant competencies to ensure that they have the greatest chance of success.
- ❑ Learners in the workplace will be required to complete real examples to gain the knowledge and skills required. Assessment of practical skills will occur after the completion of the learner's training activities. Assessment of component goals will be clustered into a project wherever possible and the assessment conditions shall be consistent with the delivery methods chosen. Under no circumstances will the assessment be conducted in a way that does not require the learner to demonstrate the skills outlined on the learner's dashboard.
- ❑ Learners who are unable to complete practical assessment assigned will be provided with an opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge and skills by other assessment methods appropriate to the task.
